

Skagit County Re-Licensing Clinic

Getting Started

The Skagit County Re-Licensing Clinic (RLC) is offering a way to help people in the community get and stay licensed to drive. The Re-Licensing Clinic is designed to help those with complicated matters preventing them from being licensed. This means multiple fines in collection in more than one court, or other barriers such as unpaid debt for an accident or unpaid child support in conjunction with unpaid legal financial obligations ordered by the court. Those who simply have one to three fines in collections may be better served by writing a letter to the judge requesting that their legal financial obligations be recalled from collections and placed on a payment plan with the court.

The Re-Licensing Clinic is held in the Cypress Room of the District Court Probation & Community Court Building on the 2nd and 4th Wednesdays of the month.

Signing Up

To sign up for the RLC, please visit one of our local Municipal Courts or District Court Probation. You will be provided with the forms needed, help filling them out and a hearing notice.

Follow Through

It is important to follow through with all orders entered by the judge. Failure to follow through will result in your fines being selected for and assigned to collections, which may result in your privilege to drive being suspended by the DOL.
