

THE MOUNT VERNON ARGUS

THURSDAY, MAY 12, 1927.

of Skagit Flood Believed to Be Averted

...end was re-
...members of
...merce to sub-
...that the dan-
...rchet in the
...fields recalled
...point to a
...alls back of
...barometer,
...it was cov-
...this time of
...for dwellers
...the seams
...but th-t
...ed, tie
...est.

Judge Shields said he noticed this morning that the snow was almost gone. It was announced that the Puget Sound Power & Light Co. expects to lower the level of Lake Shannon, behind the Baker River dam, within a few days. With the lake down it will act as a safety valve should sudden hot weather bring down the snow water. However, it is believed that the gradual rise in temperature the past week has had the effect of melting a considerable amount of loose snow and thus removing some of the danger.

of Skagit Flood Believed to Be Averted

...end was re-
...members of
...merce to sub-
...that the dan-
...rchet in the
...fields recalled
...point to a
...alls back of
...barometer,
...it was cov-
...this time of
...for dwellers
...the seams
...but th-t
...ed, tie
...est.

Judge Shields said he noticed this morning that the snow was almost gone. It was announced that the Puget Sound Power & Light Co. expects to lower the level of Lake Shannon, behind the Baker River dam, within a few days. With the lake down it will act as a safety valve should sudden hot weather bring down the snow water. However, it is believed that the gradual rise in temperature the past week has had the effect of melting a considerable amount of loose snow and thus removing some of the danger.