FILLING IN CREEKS

Quick action by citizens in the middle of the night in cutting a channel thru the county road north of town, saved hundreds of families here from being flooded out of their homes. The channel was cut at the place where the county engineers replaced a creek and bridge with a dirt fill and small culvert. This disastrous policy was followed in many places in the county in past years, and has cost thousands of dollars and much trouble.